Process & Strategy

Case Assessment Steps

Initial intake collects facts, documents, timelines, and stakeholder objectives, plus evidence preservation and confidentiality agreements to frame the dispute.

A neutral evaluation assesses legal exposure, commercial priorities, and settlement levers, producing a pre-mediation brief with risk analysis, proposed bargaining range, and recommended next steps. Recommendations prioritize feasibility and timelines to ensure mediation readiness and efficient case management.

Mediation Techniques

Facilitated negotiation blends interest-based and evaluative methods to bridge gaps.

Use of private caucuses, reality-testing, and structured proposals drives progress.

Emphasis on confidentiality and controlled communication reduces escalation.

Outcome Implementation

Draft clear settlement terms with measurable performance metrics, enforceable remedies, and explicit enforcement clauses to ensure accountability.

Set concrete timelines, dispute-avoidance mechanisms, and escalation paths. Provide structured post-mediation follow-up to monitor performance, confirm compliance, and document finality, reducing the risk of relapse and supporting long-term dispute prevention.

Conclusions

Mediation with a certified arbitrator delivers faster, cost-effective trademark dispute resolution.

At Brian Gilchrist, Combining local insight with disciplined process, and practical remedies increases settlement durability and reduces litigation exposure.
